National Conference, Thursday 4th and Friday 5th November 2021

Worsley Park Marriott Hotel, Manchester

engage in their future is a national association of school leaders whose professional role is dedicated to improving the life chances for children exhibiting challenging behaviour in school. It is a collective group of likeminded leaders from a range of educational settings who seek innovative solutions to challenging behaviour in the learning environment.

The organisation delivers a range of benefits that reach every level of the school community - from the head teacher, to the staff, to the students. These include the prestigious National Awards that recognises and celebrates the achievements of students from across the network of engage in their future member schools; the National Creative Awards which encourage students and staff to express their creativity through poetry, photography and short story writing; as well as numerous other benefits such as staff networking opportunities, peer support and the sharing of good practice.

One of the key events in the engage in their future calendar is the National Conference. Held every year, the National Conference gathers together individuals from both member and non-member schools in an informative and positive environment to enjoy a carefully curated programme of keynote talks, practical workshops and networking opportunities.

Sponsorship of the engage in their future 2021 National Conference will give sponsors and exhibitors access to over 60 specialist leaders from across the country who continually seek to improve the education, welfare and life chances of children dealing with social, emotional and mental health difficulties. Delegates are typically the key-decision makers and influencers on all issues within their school, from resources to recruitment, and there are few other such highly targeted opportunities to reach this specific group of people from the education sector.

The theme of the 2021 National Conference is 'Quality of Life: Mental Health and Well-being Matters'. The issue will be explored, challenged and considered from many different perspectives that will all focus on the impact and relevance on SEMH education, the children and young people we work with, as well as on ourselves and our colleagues.

In addition to providing plenty of opportunities for delegates to network with colleagues and interact with exhibitors, the Conference programme will include inspirational keynote speakers that will provide a new or alternative perspective on the issues that really matter, informative workshops that will equip delegates with ideas and practical examples to take back to their own school community, and Teach Meet, a platform for delegates to share good practice, practical innovations and personal insights.

A number of sponsorship, exhibitor and leaflet opportunities are available but if you have any specific requirements or feel that the packages available do not meet your precise needs or budget, we would be delighted to discuss bespoke options with you.
